OFFER HEART
AND KIDNEYSThe Couse Prosecution
Wins Important Point.

At the conclusion of Douse case session before Judge De Bolt yesterday afternoon, the prosecution had won one of the most important points so far adduced, and this morning the jar containing the kidneys and heart of Yamagata, the Japanese alleged to have died as a result of injuries caused by Douse, engineer at Puunene plantation, Maui, will be offered as evidence, and permitted to become one of the exhibits.

In the absence of the jury, which was excused, the attorneys argued the matter thoroughly, and as the court was about to rise, Judge Humphreys, who, with Deputy Attorney General Fleming is prosecuting the case, made a formal motion offering in evidence the jar and contents. To this offer, Mr. Kinney, for the defense, objected. The court is to pass on the matter this morning, although before the formal motion was made, the judge said he saw no reason why the jar and contents should not go before the jury.

The prosecution had a star witness yesterday in Dr. Soga, the Maui doctor who assisted at the autopsy performed on Yamagata. He arrived on the Mauna Loa yesterday afternoon and was upon the witness stand. He said he was a graduate of the Cooper Medical College of San Francisco and had been a practicing physician for nine years. The jar, covered with a cloth, was shown him. On the top were strips of paper, purporting to have been signed by various physicians at Maui. The doctor was asked to identify the jar and his

DONE BY TRYING.

Nobody can tell what he can do till he tries. When a thing ought to be done the modern spirit moves us to keep working away at it until it is done. In the face of this idea the "impossible" vanishes. Where there's a will, there's a way. "If we could but rob cod liver oil of its sickening taste and smell and then combine it with two or three other ingredients we should possess the best remedy in the world for certain diseases that are now practically incurable." So said a famous English physician twenty-five years ago. "But it will never be done," he added. "You can no more turn cod liver oil into a palatable medicine, than you can turn the Codfish itself into a Bird of Paradise." Yet he lived to admit that in WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION the "impossible" had been accomplished. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. This remedy is freed from the bad peculiarities Dr. Frothingham so detested, and it is precisely the splendid medicine he wished for. Use it freely and confidently for Hysteria, Wasting Complaints, Anemia, Blood Impurities, Asthma, and Throat and Lung Troubles. Dr. W. H. B. Aikins, Physician to Toronto General Hospital, says: "I am much pleased to state that the results from using Wampole's Preparation of Cod Liver Oil have been uniformly satisfactory; it appealed to me as being prepared according to correct scientific principles." It increases the appetite and influences the digestion of food; it is delicious to take, and is effective from the first dose." One bottle convinces. At all chemists.

HAWAIIAN LODGE NO. 21,
F. & A. M.

THERE WILL BE A SPECIAL meeting of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, F. & A. M., at its hall, Masonic Temple, corner of Hotel and Alakea streets, THIS (Wednesday) EVENING, June 13, 1906, at 7:30 o'clock.

signature which he did. This was to indicate that the seal had not been broken since he put his name on the slip.

He described the manner in which he had cut the right kidney and told of pus which had formed in the pelvic cavity of the kidney and of the manner in which he had drained this off. He told of certain cuts he made on the kidney as well as on the heart, and by these he could identify the organs in the jar, should they be exhibited to him.

The prosecution relies largely upon the testimony showing the condition of the kidneys, particularly the right one, to show that Yamagata came to his death as a result of burns on his body, which in turn caused the kidneys to become affected, and that the condition of the kidneys when opened was due to the burns on the body. These burns are said to have been caused by Douse throwing gasoline over Yamagata and setting fire to the oil.

BOOTH BRINGS SUIT.

C. W. Booth has filed suit against C. W. Desky, Lemuel C. Ables and Gustav Schuman to recover the sum of $2000, alleged to be due plaintiff, an outgrowth of the old Pacific Heights controversy. A bond in the sum of $2000 given by defendants on March 26, 1904, approved as to sufficiency and form, by Judge Robinson. The Circuit Court on May 25, 1904, dismissed the bill of C. S. Desky against Booth, with taxes and costs assessed against Desky, and in that event the bond given by Desky et al. became negotiable by Booth.

CONSULATE CLOSED UP.

A letter from Cape Verde to J. A. Thompson, Clerk of the Circuit Court, discloses the fact that there is now but one consular agency in the Cape Verde Islands. Antonio Jose Nunes writes from Ilha Brava, acknowledging receipt of the commission to take deposition of witnesses, residents of Sao Thingo. He informs Mr. Thompson that "This consular agency is closed up, so the commission cannot be performed. Tomorrow I will mail it addressed to Mr. Joao Baptista Guimaraes, who is the only American consular agent at Cape Verde Islands, residing at Saint Vincent, C. V. I."

COURT NOTES.

Defendant in the case of the Kapiolani Estate, Ltd., vs. Jas. W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands, has been granted by Judge Robinson two days' additional time in which to plead to the alternative writ of mandamus filed. Wm. Savidge, trustee, in the action of Maria Barate vs. Wm. Savidge, trustee, Agnes Soares et al., has filed a demurrer to the petition for admeasurement of dower.

A stipulation has been filed in the assumpsit action of the Hilo R. R. Co. vs. Cecil Brown and H. S. Williams, formerly doing business under the firm name of H. L. Williams & Co., providing for trying the case before a judge without a jury.

The Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., has filed suit against Mille Morris, to foreclose a mortgage on property in Kapalama, Honolulu, security on a promissory note made and executed July 1, 1901, for $5000 with interest at 8 per cent.

L. A. Thurston and A. Perry, attorneys for plaintiff in the case of W. C. Weedon vs. C. W. Chapin, have filed a motion to place the case upon the calendar of triable cases at the April term.

The Federal trial juries have been excused until September.

A KAMAAINA'S
84TH BIRTHDAY

The Boston Herald says: Receiving the congratulations of many of his friends and business associates, the Hon. Gorham D. Gilman quietly observed his 84th birthday today at his home on Baldwin street, Newton. Mr. Gilman was born in Hallowell, Me., May 28, 1822. After completing his education at Hallowell Academy, he entered business as a clerk. Later he went to Honolulu, but returned in 1848, when the gold fever broke out in California. Later he returned to Honolulu and engaged in business there until 1861, when he returned to Boston, where, with his brothers, established a drug business.

When Newton became a city, in 1874, he served in the common council and in the board of aldermen in 1876. He next went to the Legislature, and during his second term as senator, retired to become the Hawaiian consul. He was afterwards appointed consul-general, which position he held until the islands were annexed by the United States.

Mr. Gilman is in excellent health and goes every day to Boston on business. He is a regular attendant at the Elliot Congregational church.

HE FAVORS
LA PALOMA

Editor Advertiser: I would like to have some of our local yacht club members give the public some idea of their opinion on the transpacific yacht race. In most places where racing is carried on, all the clubs would be publicly naming their choice. Why should not Hawaii do the same? On the Pacific coast the Anemone seems favorite. I, on this side, see the race differently, and am taking our own boat. I have talked to some members of the club and they seem to think also that the race lies with the bigger boat. I am merely asking some member or members of the Hawaii Yacht Club, why this or that boat should or should not win, or in other words, has the Paloma a chance of winning the cup so liberally offered to all comers? Some may say "no," and that her sailing master is afraid to drive her. I say not so, and base my assertion on his willingness to undertake the trip to San Francisco, not as a pleasure trip, but as a race which meant "drive" from start to finish, and also by the winning of a cup from the S. C. Allen in a hard-fought race up, to which La Paloma's rigging on entering San Francisco bore testimony. I say again that La Paloma's sailing master, skipper and crew are O. K., and the best representative the Hawaii Yacht Club could send. Our boat's chances I think are good, if we can believe the cable dispatch that after 10 miles windward work La Paloma hangs on to the foremost boat, wind 15 knots. Of course, it may blow 20, 25 or 30 knots, but not all the time and even so, La Paloma has made good weather of the same breeze right here at home, so I don't think the other boat will leave her very much. Some may argue the bigger boat can carry more sail. Again I say she needs to for she has more boat to carry. At any rate its not going to blow every day, and when it doesn't La Paloma gets the same favor as the heavy wind offers the bigger yachts. Now gentlemen of the Hawaii Yacht Club, lets hear from some of you. Give us your choice and a few reasons for the same, and make this race as interesting as yacht races and especially ocean races always are in other countries. In this race I am surely in favor of

LA PALOMA.

STORY OF SHERIDAN'S PARENTS.

One of the sweetest and most pathetic war stories is about the Sheridans, father and mother of Gen. Phil Sheridan.

The old people were living at Somerset, Ohio, when word came that Gen. Sheridan had suffered a great defeat in the Shenandoah Valley. They slept none that night, but in the morning the old gentleman said:

"Mother, I have thought it all out, Phil wasn't there when the fight began. That is what the paper said. It would not be like our boy to remain away throughout the battle. As I make it out, Phil returned in time to save the day. I'll go to the store and wait until the paper comes, get the news and hurry back. I don't believe there's anything to worry about."

"I hope you are right, father, but I'm afraid yesterday's news was correct. Phil has had so much good luck I'm afraid he's had bad luck in this battle." Old Mr. Sheridan was sitting on the steps in front of the store when a man rode up and called out, "Good news from Sheridan!"

Then one of the bystanders caught up the morning paper and read the account of Sheridan's return to the army, of his turning the tide, of the President's message of thanks, of Sheridan's heroic conduct and the complete rout of the enemy.

The paper said it was one of the greatest victories of the war. That was enough for Mr. Sheridan. He started on a trot to tell Mrs. Sheridan the news about her son's greatest battle.

She saw him coming and hurried to the gate to get the tidings from Cedar Creek.

"Glory to God, mother, glory to God! Phil licked 'em! The President has sent him the country's thanks, and the paper says it was one of the greatest fights of the war. I knew Phil would get back in time to save the day."

The old couple hugged and kissed and kissed and hugged again and again. After they had gone into the house the old lady suddenly became very sober.

"What's the matter, mother?"

"Father, did the paper say anything about John?"

"No, but you know Phil would have sent a despatch if anything had happened to John."

John was another son, a private in Sheridan's army in the valley.

NOURISH

the body, don't dose it with medicine. Scott's Emulsion is the best nourishment in existence. It is more than a food; you may doubt it, but it digests perfectly easy and at the same time gets the digestive functions in a condition so that ordinary food can be easily digested. Try it if you are run down and your food doesn't nourish you.
